11	Course Learning Outcomes
1	To display excellence in the acquisition of knowledge and understanding of the English legal system and the substantive rules of English law within its political, historical, global and economic context; its relationship with ethical and moral issues and the ways in which lawyers can effect social change through the application of legal principles.
2	To analyse, critically evaluate and produce a synthesis of legal rules and apply these to a range of issues and problems
3	To demonstrate a knowledge-applied approach, showing an ability to make proficient use of information and materials from a variety of sources, including knowledge of the legal conventions relevant to English and EU Law, in the critical evaluation and solution of legal issues and problems.
4	To develop key employability skills, to include assimilating knowledge; framing appropriate questions; marshalling coherent and rational argument, and relating theory and practice in order to draw independent conclusions through the ability to strategically plan for one's own learning method and structured response to meaningful feedback.
5	To use the English language with precision, in relation to legal issues, in order to make effective oral and written presentations which are coherent and comprehensible to meet expectations in the workplace.
6	To develop a range of other pervasive skills, including: making relevant use of numerical and statistical information derived from primary and secondary sources when constructing an argument, conducting electronic research and appropriate use of the internet to locate relevant information, producing work which is presented and formatted using standard software packages, working co-operatively, ethically and professionally with others.
7	To demonstrate a critical understanding and awareness of the way in which the law affects (or interacts with) business operations, transactions and functions as preparation for employment, self-employment or postgraduate study.

13 Overall Student Workload and Balance of Assessment

Overall student workload consists of class contact hours, independent learning and assessment activity, with each credit taken equating to a total study time of around 10 hours. While actual contact hours may depend on the optional modules selected, the following information gives an indication of how much time students will need to allocate to different activities at each level of the course.

- Scheduled Learning includes lectures, practical classes and workshops, contact time specified in timetable
- Directed Learning includes placements, work-based learning, external visits, on-line activity, Graduate+, peer learning
- Private Study includes preparation for exams

The balance of assessment by mode of assessment (e.g. coursework, exam and in-person) depends to some extent on the optional modules chosen by students. The approximate percentage of the course assessed by coursework, exam and in-person is shown below.
