

Loan Amounts

There are limits on the maximum amount of loans you can borrow for an academic year. There is also a maximum amount that you can borrow in total for undergraduate and postgraduate study (known as Aggregate Maximum Loan Limits):

The loan amounts you are eligible to receive within an academic year are determined by:

- the Cost of Attendance as issued by Birmingham City University
- your Expected Family Contribution (EFC)
- any other financial help you receive
- your remaining eligibility under the annual and aggregate loan limits
- whether you are an undergraduate or postgraduate student
- your dependency

Please click on the below link for an overview of Loan amounts available, aggregate loan limits, fees & rates charged and repayments. Fees and interest rates should be updated by the US Department of Education for 2019-0 academic year on their website here when they are confirmed.
