6	Course Description
	Interested in working in the security sector? Our BA (Hons) Criminology and Security Studies course covers a range of topics, from war and conflict to counter-terrorism.
	Make sense of global trends by getting the big picture perspective on political and historical issues which are leading to continued conflict and instability in the world today.
	Our course will equip you with knowledge and understanding of both national and international politics, global conflict, and intelligence.
	What's covered in the course?
	Our curriculum offers you a variety of subjects through which you will be able to develop your interests before focusing on specialised fields, such as surveillance, terrorism, and cybercrime. This is an exciting and dynamic course that explores real-world problems, focusing on cutting edge and topical issues relating to crime and security.
	The course uses research-informed teaching and learning to develop a range of transferable academic and practical skills which will be attractive to employers. The course also uses external visits, as well as unique assessments to enhance your understanding of the discipline.
	The course's real-world applications are supported by its close links with local and national agencies, including West Midlands Police and other various criminal justice agencies. You will have opportunities to gain work experience with relevant organisations, and there is an option for you to undertake international study.
	You will be taught by expert staff in the fields of criminology and security, and you will also enjoy regular guest lectures from highly influential voices in the discipline.

16 Overall Student Workload and Balance of Assessment

Overall student workload consists of class contact hours, independent learning and assessment activity, with each credit taken equating to a total study time of around 10 hours. While actual contact hours may depend on the optional modules selected, the following information gives an indication of how much time you will need to allocate to different activities at each level of the course.

- Scheduled Learning includes lectures, practical classes and workshops, contact time specified in timetable
- Directed Learning includes placements, work-based learning, external visits, on-line activity, Graduate+, peer learning
- Private Study includes preparation for exams

The balance of assessment by mode of assessment (e.g. coursework, exam and in-person) depends to some extent on the optional modules chosen by you. The approximate percentage of the course assessed by coursework, exam and in-person is shown below.

Level 4
